Web Designer

There are major changes and enhancements to the user interface for creating, maintaining and executing web tests in the 5.0.0 release of AIQ.

This document is meant as a quick start guide to help acquaint you with the new Web Designer and explain the basic components in the interface.

You can watch a video introducing you to the features and benefits of the new Web Designer.

Here is a comparison between the Web Testing menu options in AIQ 5.0 and previous AIQ releases.

AIQ 5.0.0	AIQ 4.10.x (and older)

- Web Designer is the new user interface.
- Web Designer (Classic) is Deprecated.

See Web Testing User Interface Overview for an explanation of the differences between the new and classic interfaces.

For your convenience, the information about the new Web Designer interface is included in the AIQ 5.0.0 Release Summary. This document also contains the AIQ 5.0.0 Release Notes, which includes information about the AIQ 5.0.0 release.
